What's in the air this month, edited by Nathalie Wilson

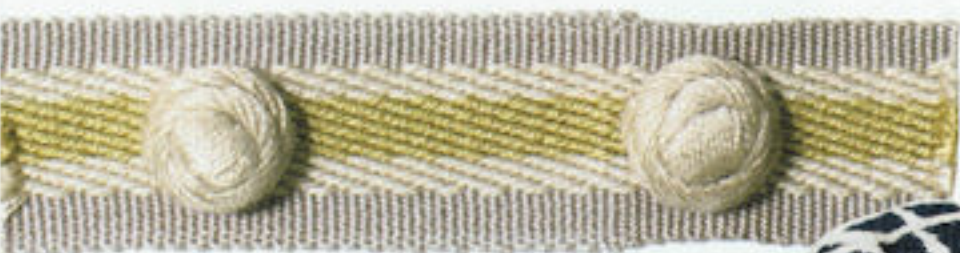

1 Kinnasand, whose roots go back to a 19th-century mill in Kinna, Sweden, has sought inspiration in the past for its 'Vintage' rugs. The collection includes three traditional kilim patterns in modern colour combinations (including luminous pink and lime) and 15 plain ones. Shown from left are 'Butterfly' and 'Nabucco' (from £940 for a 1.4 x 2m example). Ring 00 49 4488 5160, or visit kinnasand.com.

2 'So many people have been interested in the paint colours we use in our showroom,' says Bernie de Le Cuona, founder of the eponymous textile company, 'that it made sense to release a small range that can work with our fabric collection.' They are available in 13 shades (from £22 per litre). Ring 020 7584 7677, or visit deleacuona.co.uk.

3 The 'Werin' furniture collection waves the red-dragon flag. The self-assembly pieces are updated versions of traditional Welsh furniture and were conceived by local companies Blodwen and Freshwest. The trestle table (£2,100) – which like its forebears has a natural wood side for everyday use and a gleaming white-painted one for high days and holidays – is made of Pembrokeshire oak, and the pot-boiler dresser (£3,200) from Cardiganshire oak. Ring 01239 622828, or visit blodwen.com.

4 If Zimmer & Rohde's fabrics are the turkey, its debut range of passementerie by Travers is the trimmings. The delicious collection consists of nine designs in seven colourways, including this 'Button 60001-769' border (£40 per m) and 'Skin 60003-595' tape (£46 per m). 5 This 'Loft' sofa (£2,475) is large enough to accommodate the entire extended family. OK, that may be a bit of an exaggeration, but it is 2.25m long x 1.1m deep. Also available are four smaller versions, an armchair and corner units
